Mr. Hornby Resigns.

Uvalde, Tex., Sept. 22, 1919.
Editor:
On account of appointment to the office of Census Supervisor of the 15th Congressional district, which office I have accepted, it became necessary for me to resign as State Representative of this district. I resisted Governor Hobby to an election for my succesor at the same time that the constitutional amendments are voted on which will be November 4th, 1919, so this I save any expense to the district. I do not know of any reason why there should be another call session of the legislature. The chances are very small that it appears and after considering the matter I could not miss the appointment supervisor on the possibility of another called session. However, should there be another session this election in November will give the voters an opportunity of naming a Representative of their choice. Let me say to the good people of this district for the honor they have in me.

Very truly yours,
H. P. HORNBY.

G. C. Morris for Representative.

Medina county offers to the people of the 116th Representative District as its candidate for Representative to succeed Hon. H. P. Hornby, resigned, one of her native sons in the person of Hon. G. C.
Morris of Devine. Mr. Morris is a self-made man. After securing such educational advantages as the public schools of Devine afforded, he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar several years ago. Soon afterwards he became a member of the firm of Briscoe & Morris and has built up a creditable practice in Medina and adjoining counties. Some two years ago he was appointed to the office of county attorney to succeed Elmer de Montell who resigned to enter the army. Last year he was elected to the office without opposition. If elected to the office of Representative he will bring to the discharge of the duties of the position a well trained legal mind and a knowledge of the needs of his state and district based upon the experience of a lifetime spent within its borders.

The Health Meeting.

At the health meeting of the citizens
held at the court house last Monday evening, in response to the call of Dr.
W. H. Smith, county health officer,
Mr. F. S. Cockrell was elected president, and Mr. O. A. Fly, secretary.

The following were appointed as a committee to raise funds: Jack Droitcourt, E. R. Leinweber, Mrs. John Horger and Mrs. Sid Carter.

The meeting was called by Dr. W.
H. Smith, county health officer, for the purpose of cleaning up the town, to aid in the prevention of influenza and other diseases that might be caused by the rank growth of weeds, stagnant water and other places of filth.

The health board and other citizens of Hondo ask that all weeds on and about premises be cut down and burned, and trash such as cans and other such rubbish that will not burn, be collected and placed in a convenient place to be collected by the wagon when it comes around. And should the wagon fail to get your trash, do not leave it to be scattered but notify the chairman or some member of the board so that it can be collected.

Do not empty water in the same place often if such can be avoided, at least in quantities, or so often that it is caused to stand for any length of time. In cases where it is compelled to stand, such places should be disinfected with Kresol Dip or any disinfectant that will prevent the breeding of mosquitoes.

Do not permit cans, buckets or barrels of water to stand without being disinfected.

Keep your lots and pig pens cleaned out.

All surface closets must be removed and cesspools or at least pits dug not less than five feet deep.

Wednesday of each week has been chosen as cleanup day, and by Thursday morning have everything that will not burn ready for the wagon. Place trash in a box or barrel so that it can be easily emptied.

THE COMMITTEE.

Damage Suit Filed.

A damage suit in the sum of $40,000
was placed on the docket of the district court Thursday. The style of the case is L. J. Schmidt vs. E. W. Lacy et al.,
(the other defendants being Rev. J. W.
Long, Jesse Newton, Chas. Monkhouse, S. G. Carter and T. C. Barnes), and is an echo of one of the Red Cross drives conducted here more than a year ago.
Plaintiff claims that he was intimidated by threats of bodily harm to subscribe to the Red Cross fund. Attorney Wurzbach of San Antonio filed the suit in behalf of the plaintiff.

Annual Meeting at the Lutheran Church.

Tomorrow, Sunday, the annual meeting of the congregation will take place.

tions in the management will be given.

To Applicants for Census Work.

Uvalde, Texas, Oct. 1, 1919.

Many of your readers will doubtless be interested in the work of taking the Federal Census for 1920. This commences January 1, 1920, and is to be completed in 30 days. The larger towns must be completed within two weeks and in the country and small town thirty days is allowed.

The enumeration will be by districts with a view of one person being able to enumerate his district in the time allowed.

The pay for a person of reasonable diligence will be from $4.00 to $6.00 per day. In some cases additional expense money will be allowed. This, however, will be determined by the director.

The qualification for an enumerator
is that they should be active, energetic persons of good address, having at least ordinary education, able to write plainly and with reasonable rapidity.

Women are qualified to take the census and nothing in the act prohibits the employment of persons under 21 years otherwise qualified. Having once accepted the position enumerators cannot resign except for good cause. They must also devote their entire working time to the enumeration until they complete the work.

An examination of applicants will be held later at which time they will be given sample schedules to fill out and their work will be graded and appointments made later on.

Applications for enumerators should be filed at once as the time limit is short. Proper blanks will be mailed to the applicants as soon as they have been received from Headquarters. The names of all applicants will be filed as received.

The following is the subdivision of Medina county showing the number of enumerators required. Enumerators should live in the division from which they apply.

WILSON INVADERS HOUSE OF FOES

CARRIES HIS BATTLE FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS INTO HOME OF HIS ENEMIES.

GIVES COST OF GREAT WAR

Inform Them of Lives and Treasure Poured Out to Save Civilization.

(By Mt. Clemens News Bureau)

Aboard President Wilson's Special train—Carrying his war against those who oppose the adoption by the United States of the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations into their households, President Wilson last week invaded California.

And there, where the question on which league opponents have hammered the hardest, that of Shan Tung—is of most interest, the president found the same enthusiasm among the people for peace and for insurance against future wars. The people want the long controversy ended. They want this country to be able to again turn its undivided attention to social, economic and industrial development. Their leaders may not feel this way, but judging from the expressions which met the president on every side. The leaders have overstepped the limits of the peoples patience in their stubborn determination to force a change in the great document.

Must Take This League.

"We must take this League of Nations," said the president, "for there is no way in which another can be obtained without compelling reconsideration by the powers. And it would sit very ill upon my stomach to take it back to Germany for consideration."

"All over the world people are looking to us with confidence our rivals along with the weaker nations. I pray God that the gentlemen who are delaying this thing may presently see it in a different light."

Germany, the president declared, is taking new courage from our delay in ratifying the treaty and her newspapers and public men were again becoming arrogantly out-spoken.

Deeply impressive were the figures of the cost of the late war, in lives and dollars. It was the first time that the official statistics have been made public and the tremendous totals shocked the president's audiences.

Shows Cost of World War.

"The war," said President Wilson, cost Great Britain and her Dominions $38,000,000,000; France $26,000,000,000; the United States $22,000,000,000; Russia $18,000,000,000; Italy $13,000,000,000 and a total, including the expenditures of Japan, Belgium and other small countries, of $123,000,000,000.

"It cost the Central Powers as follows: Germany $39,000,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $21,000,000,000; Turkey and Bulgaria $3,000,000,000.

"The United States," the president said, "spent one million dollars an hour night and day for two years in its struggle to save civilization. All this, however, fades into insignificance when the deaths by battle are considered, declared the president. Russia gave 1,700,000 men; Germany 1,600,000; France 1,380,000; Great Britain 900,000; Italy 364,000; the United States 50,300. In all, almost 7,500,000 men perished in the great struggle, or 1,500,000 more men than died in all of the wars of the previous 100 years.

Should Remember Recent Horrors.

"These are terrible facts, and we ought never to forget them. We went into this war to do a thing that was fundamental for the world and what I have come out on this journey for is to determine whether the country has forgotten or not. I have found out. The country has not forgotten and it will never permit any who stands in the way of the fulfillment of our great pledges, ever to forget the sorrowful day he made the attempt."

Arbitration and discussion, the president pointed out, must replace force of arms in the settlement of world controversies. Constantly he dwells upon the fact that all the nations in the League agree to do one of two things, first to submit their differences to arbitration, in which case they agree to abide by the decision rendered, or, if unwilling to arbitrate, to have their case discussed by the Council of the League, in which case six months is granted for discussion. Three months must elapse following the result of this last step in arbitration before the nation concerned can declare war.

Holds Out Hope For Ireland.

The president took advantage of questions propounded by the San Francisco Labor Council to give the inference, that he believes Ireland can bring her case before the League of Nations for settlement when the League is actually in existence.

Shan Tung, he declared, will be returned to China. Japan, he said, had given her solemn pledge to that effect. And with the League of Nations in force, said the president, we can, if occasion arises, stand forth and say, "This shall be done."

Salvation Army Chairman Influenced by Attitude of Oversea Veterans

Soldiers and sailors who saw service overseas have been instrumental in many cases in drawing prominent Texans into the county and state organizations for the Salvation Army's $600,000 home service campaign, according to W. P. "Billy" Walsh of Tyler, Texas, who attended the Dallas district session of county chairmen Monday.

"One of the most harrowing war tales I have ever heard of the war drew me into the Salvation Army Service," Walsh told the county chairman. "We have a young soldier in our town who tried to enlist a half dozen times. Each time he was rejected because of a bad heart. Then along came the draft.

"His heart was all right when the draft board physicians got to him. He went overseas. Within six weeks of the time he was drafted he took part in an action on the Toul sector. He went over the top and got two machine gun bullets through his shoulder.

"Well, the boy says he stumbled into a shell hole. With him were two more wounded men. One of them had been shot through the stomach. He was terribly thirsty but dared not drink for he had heard that water in the stomach was sure death when the stomach's walls had been pierced by a bullet. The other man had a mangled leg.

"These boys lay there from 2 o'clock one day until after 10 o'clock the next day. The soldier with the mangled leg and the one shot through the stomach died. Then help came. The first person to that boy in the shell hole was a Salvation Army man with a pitcher of chocolate. That is why I am chairman in my county."

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

Shells Help Oil Geologist.

The little jellylike animals which the scientist calls Foraminifera swarm so abundantly in the sea that their tiny cast-off shells in some places make up a considerable part of the sediments which are laid down on the sea bottom and which in time may become beds of rock in a land area. The small size and the compactness of these shells protect them from some of the accidents that befall the remains of larger animals, so that in many samples of well borings the Foraminifera are the only shells that have survived in recognizable form the vicissitudes of drilling. In the hands of the specialist trained to identify fossils, the Foraminifera may furnish the only available clue to the age of rock enclosing them and consequently to the existence of strata or structure favorable or unfavorable to the accumulation of oil, gas or water, according to the United States geological survey.

Encouraging Boishevism

Everything that falsely encourages unrest also encourages boishevism.

Misunderstanding of American industrial organization, and of its benefits to mankind, leads to unrest, dissatisfaction, and radicalism.

For example, the Federal Trade Commission tells the public that the large packers had an agreed price for lard substitute (made of cotton-seed oil.)

It reproduces letters taken from the files of one of the packers, showing that such agreed price existed.

But it failed to mention that the agreed price was determined at the request of and in co-operation with the Food Administration!

Even the Department of Justice, in its unjust attempt to create prejudice against the packers, has made public these same letters, with no explanation.

How long must this kind of misrepresentation continue? In so far as it is believed, it not only breeds discontent, but results in injustice to our industry.

COAST OVER COBBLE STONES

Sport in Madeira Has Many Advantages Over That to Which North-erners Are Accustomed.

Cobble stones may not appeal to the uninitiated as ideal for coasting purposes, but they admirably serve the purpose. It all depends on how steep is the hill the cobbles pave. In other words, it isn't the material that makes the "slide," but the pitch of the slope. Those of us who are accustomed to sliding down snow-clad hills, or tiny ascents made slippery by ice know little of the thrill a slide may possess. For some measure of the delight in the sport is frequently minimized by the frigid air that rushes past our tingling ears and some measure of the enjoyment is entirely lost by the chills that grip our shivering bodies.

Imagine—if you can—the thrill of coasting down a hill so steep that your "sled" flies over the cobbles much as a would speed over crusted snow or an ice glare. Instead of icy air that almost chills you to the marrow at the thought, picture yourself in springtime garments and fanned by summer breezes.

If you can imagine such a picture you will have enjoyed at least some part of the sport of coasting in an island where there is no snow or ice. Down the cobble-paved road the "sled" flies. For ten minutes you dash along in breath-taking rush, then you begin to grow accustomed to the speed and the novelty of the sport and you take time to look about you. But—like most other enjoyments—just as you're beginning really to enjoy it to the utmost your coasting ends.

Where is this extraordinary slide? On the island of Madeira, which belongs to Portugal, and lies in the Atlantic ocean, off the coast of Morocco.

How a Hero Died.

A dramatic incident in which a heroic young officer faced death in soldierly manner is the climax of a true story that recently appeared in Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American expeditionary forces.

He was Francis M. Leahy of Lawrence, Massachusetts, and he had served in the ranks before he won his commission. He used to tell of the days when he was orderly to Captain Pershing in the Philippines. One day while he was resting with his men by the wayside a German shell came whizzing out of space just as the order arrived that the regiment fall in and move on.

The shell plowed up the earth and stretched on the ground several men who were just getting to their feet. It hit the tree against which Captain Leahy was leaning and snapped it off like a stalk of asparagus. A piece of shell struck him in the back and tore its way through his chest.

"Good-by, boys!" he said, and his head sagged forward.

Then it was as if, somewhere in the universe, an invisible commander had called, "Attention!" Captain Leahy raised his head. With clearing voice he called the name of the officer next in command.

"Lieutenant Hansen," he said, "the command is 'Forward!' See the boys through!"

Then he died.

Recipient of Old Honor.

Prince Ferdinand Radziwill, who recently presided at the opening of the new Polish parliament, is a distant relative of the Hohenzollerns and one of the pillars of the old Polish nobility. The honor accorded Prince Radziwill was declared to be absolutely without political significance, but entirely a matter of custom. The prince came into the temporary presidency by reason of seniority only. He is eighty-five years old and is the oldest member on the floor of parliament. By virtue of a similar custom the youngest two members of the house, a socialist and a Catholic priest, neither of them more than twenty-five years old, acted as vice presidents and sat to left and right of the old nobleman all through the first session, assisting him in the carrying on of his duties.

Ships and Their Names.

Peace has brought with it the incidental discussion in a section of the English press of the meaning of and reason for the names of certain ships in the British navy. Truly my lords of the admiralty, acting as sponsors, have gone to some strange sources for the nomenclature. Not merely countries and cities have been drawn upon, but many of the creatures figuring in a menagerie have been freely utilized. Then there are the vessels named after the public schools and institutions of England, such as Uppingham, Tonbridge, Westminster, Rugby, Cheltenham, Epsom and so on. If Eton should feel jealous over the matter of its neglect it can take a kind of reflected comfort in the fact that there is a destroyer called Windsor.

Weights a Locomotive Hauls.

"How much more weight does the average passenger locomotive have to haul than in the days before the advent of the steel car?" I asked an expert Philadelphia locomotive builder. "The old wooden passenger car weighed 40,000 to 60,000 pounds," he answered. "The steel suburban car weighs 80,000 pounds. The larger steel car weighs 110,000 pounds. A parlor car weighs 115,000 pounds and the sleeping car 140,000. "As for the locomotive itself, the heavy Pacific type for passenger traffic weighs 280,000 to 300,000 pounds. The freight locomotives, of course, go far beyond this figure, to more than 500,000 pounds."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Cher Ami, Pigeon Hero of World War, Has Joined His Comrades in Great Beyond

The carrier pigeon hero of the war, Cher Ami, is dead. In spite of the skill of the most expert bird authorities in America, this little hero, who first notified American headquarters of the plight of the "Lost Battalion" in charge of Major Charles S. Whittlesey, died recently at the pigeon lofts at Potomac park in Washington, D. C.

Many an American lad would have been proud to have performed so many heroic deeds for his flag. Since carrying the famous message, Cher Ami had been personally petted by General Pershing, and tradition of all time was shattered when the American general in an official memorandum to the war department cited the little bird for the right to wear a distinguished service cross.

In its last flight through whistling shrapnel, Cher Ami was shot through the breast and the right leg was torn away. An especially appointed pigeon expert was selected to bring the invalid message bearer home. A basket of rattan was lined with pads of cotton to ease the long ocean voyage. At Potomac park one of the screened porches of the pigeon hospital was set aside for the exclusive use of Cher Ami.

The little patient grew weaker and weaker. Daily consultations were held to plan tempting food for the pigeon "ace." Experts at the national zoological garden, the Smithsonian Institution and the army pigeon lofts at Camp Meigs each day eagerly offered suggestions. But all efforts to prolong the life of Cher Ami were vain and now the remarkable bird is mourned as one who helped to win the world war.

One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in Medina county in several years destroyed the barn on Frank Brown's farm, near Elstone, last Thursday night. This was among the largest barns in the county, being 68x80 feet. A large quantity of feed stuff—hay, corn, cane seed, etc., besides a good deal of farm machinery of all kinds, stored in the barn—was also destroyed. Mr. Brown estimates his loss at $4,000, with $1,500 insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown as the barn was a mass of flames when discovered.

The people of Hondo will have to bear with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Schmitt for awhile after their return home. It will require time for them to descend from association with the high and mighty to a level with the plebeian folk of Hondo, but given time we trust they will accomplish the feat. President and Mrs. Wilson and party spent Sunday, September 21, in Los Angeles, California, where Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt are summering. Both the presidential party and Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt attended divine service at St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral, and the President, Mrs. Wilson and Admiral Grayson were assigned to seats immediately in front of our fellow-town-folk. We are not advised as to how President Wilson and party ascertained the knowledge that Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt would worship that day at St. Paul's Cathedral, but it must have been this knowledge that caused them to resort to the same place for their devotions.

Memory of our Beloved Friend, Josie Moehring.
I have been thinking to-day of a lonely place where the flowers have withered from the sun's hot rays, for there our friend was laid for her long rest just a few days ago.
A few months ago, dear friends,
she was bright and happy and gay
to-day she is sleeping in her lonely home while the flowers have drooped and faded. In her early days of youth
she was called away from her home
to be placed as a blossom
in a new place.
The cold, unsympathetic clouds have forever the face of our dear friend and nothing remains save the remembrance of a saintly woman now gone to rest. While faith in "Peace, be still" to the departed yet the rude winter of the ties that bound us to our dear friend has left a sorrow that time may soothe—death alone
can heal.
Farewell, dear Josie, farewell, dear friend, in heaven we shall meet again.

Remembrance Of Our Beloved Friend, Miss Josephine Moehring.

Our friend, you have left us;
Lonely are our hearts today;
Gone has of you bereft us,
Taken you so far away.

You have crossed the dark cold river,
Angels hold you by the hand,
You are safe from storms forever,
Safe within that promised land.

Now we miss your gentle foot-steps,
Miss each kind and loving word,
No more in this lonely house-hold
Will your tender voice be heard.

Dear Josephine, how we love you,
No pencil write, no tongue can tell,
But the gentle Shepherd called you,
And we must say fare-well.

True, yes, true she was to all,
Smiles forever upon her face,
Glorious we looked upon her,
Ere was given her resting place.

Gone, yes, gone! She has left us,
Josephine, forever we did part,
Joy for sorrow does always come!
Sorrow for us is very hard.

Left us! yes, forever more,
But we hope to meet our loved one
On that bright and happy shore.

From her loving friends,

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

"Tanlac Is a Perfectly Wonderful Medicine" Says Mrs. Josephine Freeman.

Mrs. Josephine Freeman, of 647 Towne avenue, Los Angeles, Cal., a graduate nurse who has practiced her profession for seventeen years, recently made the statement that she has not only been relieved of a case of stomach trouble of ten years' standing by the use of Tanlac, but that she had also gained twenty-two pounds in weight.

"I feel that I would be doing anyone a good turn by getting them to take Tanlac," said Mrs.
Freeman. "For ten years I had been having trouble with my stomach. I suffered intense pains after eating and would bloat up with gas so the pressure around my heart would almost faint. I was so nervous
I could hardly sleep and became so weak and rundown that I could hardly keep up my work as a nurse. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing would relieve me.

"Finally a friend of my husband's who had been relieved of the same trouble by taking Tanlac advised him to get me a bottle. Soon after starting on it my appetite returned and my nerves became quiet. Now I can eat anything I want and never have the least bit of trouble afterwards. I sleep like a child and feel rested and refreshed on getting up in the mornings. I have gained twenty-two pounds on four bottles of Tanlac and feel strong and well again."

COAST DRIVE FOR S. A. IS GIVEN UP

Stricken Cities Released From Obligation. Money Sent
With Workers

Relief work for the stricken section of the coast of Texas is being pushed with all possible speed by the Salvation Army, according to Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division, who is now in Corpus Christi. Clothing has been rushed into the stricken area from each of the Salvation Army post stores. Special appeals have been made in all leading cities for food and clothing. These supplies have been collected and shipped by the Salvation Army workers to Roy Miller, chairman of the Corpus Christi relief committee.

Commissioner Estill, commander of the western territory, has been appealed to for aid. A message was sent to the Chicago office by Lieutenant Colonel Wood before he departed for the coast that special offerings be taken in every large city in the west for the relief of the suffering on the coast.

Every city in the southwestern division falling under the jurisdiction of Lieutenant Colonel Wood has been asked for assistance. Prompt responses are being made to all appeals according to southwestern officials.

The Salvation Army has withdrawn the coast counties in the stricken section from the home service campaign scheduled for September 29. The amount in quotas withdrawn reaches $100,000. The decision was reached after a conference between John Henry Kirby, chairman of the state advisory and executive committee, Lieutenant Colonel Wood and Herbert B. Ehler, southwestern financial director.

SALVATION ARMY IN STRICKEN DISTRICT

Relief Workers Rushed to Area
Swept by Tide and Storm
at Corpus Christi

Relief workers from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana Salvation Army posts under orders from Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commander of the southwestern division of the Salvation Army are now working in devastated Corpus Christi, according to reports from the forty corps cities of the southwest.

Lieutenant Colonel Wood was in mid, Oklahoma, when the storm struck Corpus Christi. As soon as he had learned the extent of the storm he ordered workers from all posts to the scene of the disaster immediately followed the work arriving Wednesday afternoon in Corpus Christi.

Supplies and money were sent with workers. They were ordered to report to Roy Miller, chairman of a relief committee at Corpus Christi. All the finances and work with the maximum amount of supplies available, were placed at disposal of the relief chairman of the stricken city.

Swellings of the flesh caused by inflammation, cold, fractures of the bone, toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism can be relieved by applying BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It should be well rubbed in over the part affected. Its great healing and penetrating power eases the pain, reduces the swelling and restores natural conditions. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Record Diamond Found.

Vice Consul Samuel W. Honaker writes from Johannesburg, South Africa, that a local publication reports the finding of a magnificent soft blue-white diamond weighing 383 1/4 carats at the Jagersfontein mine in the Orange Free State. It is stated that the stone promises to become one of the historic gems of the diamond fields.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Hondo Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are weak. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Disordered kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular passage.

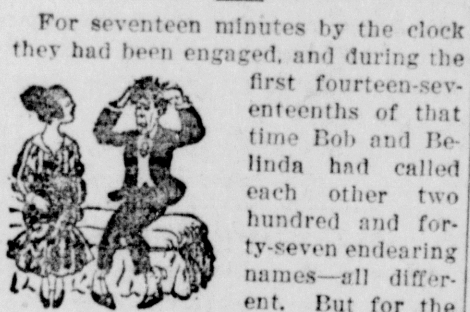

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, suggest weak kidneys and in that case warn you of the danger of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands. Here's Hondo proof:

A. J. Austin, farmer, Hondo, says: "I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney trouble for they are fine. My back pained some years ago and when I bent over I had a hard time raising up again. The secretions from my kidneys were highly colored at times and burned like scalding water in passage. I started the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and two boxes which I got from Windrow's Drug Store cured me. I haven't been troubled since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Austin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfg., Buffalo, N. Y.

AND ALL WAS BRIGHT AGAIN

Only for a Moment Did Misunderstanding Disturb the Happiness of the Fair Belinda.

For seventeen minutes by the clock they had been engaged, and during the first fourteen-seventeenth of that time Bob and Belinda had called each other two hundred and forty-seven endearing names—all different. But for the last three-seventeenth of that period there had been a proud and sorrowful look upon Belinda's face, calculated to wither all thoughts—even of orange blossoms.

The young man plunged his hands wildly through his locks.

"I can't imagine, dear," he said sadly, "what has come over you so suddenly. I simply asked if you were romantic, when—"

"Oh, Bob! Forgive me, dear!" exclaimed Belinda, casting her arms affectionately about his neck. "I thought you asked me if I was rheumatic!"

In every home where there are children there should be a bottle of WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. It destroys worms and acts as a tonic in the debilitated system. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

THE ROYAL WELCHERS.

They forced the game, they stacked the cards.

They lost—and scorned to pay.

All honest men expected it—

The bad old Prussian way.

"The Day" they launched their Dance of Death.

The world was filled with woe,

And now the paper must be paid,

But not by them—oh, no!

No longer boastful do they feel,

But mourn within their gates

The billions that they hoped to steal

From these United States.

The whole world was to bow to them,

And we the most of all.

Too high was their lecherous flight,

And deadly was their fall!

So now sneak out to meet your fate,

You Hohenzollerns twain,

You Ludendorffs and Hindenburgs

And Mackensens so vain.

Von Tirpitz and the whole vile crew,

Step forth in your disgrace,

And at the court of God and man

Meet Justice face to face!

Really Not Their Fault.

Marjorie and Clea are prim little sisters, and as there is a baby brother mamma has some trouble putting on the last touches and getting them away to school mornings. In the interest of discipline their teacher was obliged to lecture them on tardiness and next morning they were late as usual. She waited for them at the door, trying to look stern, but Clea upset all her dignity and cut her lecture short by observing: "Well, we can't help it if you ring the bell too soon."

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. Lynching in Omaha, Nebraska.

Mayor Edward P. Smith of Omaha, Nebraska, barely escaped being hung by a mob Sunday night for trying to protect a negro, Joseph Brown, who was in the county jail charged with attacking a white girl. Mayor Smith's law office had undertaken the defense of this negro in the court. The court house was set fire and also the jail with 100 prisoners caught fire. The prisoners, with Brown, were allowed and ordered to get on top of the roof, from where more than 30 men of the mob hauled down the negro and lynched him. In the attempt to lynch the mayor he received a bad wound over the right eye, a fractured nose and a wound about the neck, caused when members of the mob placed a rope about him. Two officers at the right moment cut the rope, carried the mayor to an automobile and rushed him to a hospital. The rioters looted the stores for arms and munition. Thousands of shots were fired and many people wounded. The beautiful courthouse is a mass of ruins and records are destroyed. Federal troops had to restore order.

Mme. Adelina Patti.

Adelina Patti, the prima donna, who reigned for forty years as queen of singers, died last Saturday at her beautiful home, Craig-y-Nos Castle in South Wales, England. She came to America when a baby with her parents. At the age of seven years she made her debut in New York singing arias from "The Barber". At the age of 16 years her wonderful soprano roused the audience to the wildest enthusiasm and her fame swept the country. She then earned $100 a week, later in London $750 a month. At the age of 25 she married the Marquis de Caux. A few years later, after securing a divorce from the French nobleman, she married the Italian tenor singer Nicolini, and, after his death, married Baron of Cederstrom. It is estimated that she earned more than $5,000,000 in her singing career, as later she demanded a guaranteed salary of $5,000 a night. In 1888 she faced an audience in Boston which had paid $18,900 to hear her. European potentates vied with each other in showering her with jewels, decorations and social distinctions. She was born in 1843 at Madrid, Spain; her father, Salvatore Patti, a Sicilian, was a good tenor singer.

Despondency.

Sufferers from indigestion are apt to become discouraged and feel that complete recovery is not to be hoped for. No one could make a greater mistake. Hundreds have been permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and can now eat anything that they crave. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. If you have not tried them do so at once.

NEVER TOO OLD TO MARRY

British Statistics Record the Entry Into Connubial Bliss of a Man at the Age of Ninety-Two.

Some curious facts are revealed in the registrar general's report of births, marriages and deaths in 1917, says London Tit-Bits.

Whereas most of the marriages used to take place in July, August and September, the favorite months now are October, November and December. Widows remarry in great numbers. Although young war widows affected the figures, it is clear that the war was not wholly responsible, for the total began to increase in 1912. Widowers, too, show an increasing tendency to take the second wives.

The youngest bachelor to marry was fifteen, and the youngest spinster, fourteen. No fewer than 39 males married at the age of sixteen, and 389 at the age of seventeen. Twenty-six spinsters married at the age of fifteen, one of them to a widower; 187 women were sixteen when they married, and of 1,200 marrying at seventeen, 15 married widowers.

The earliest second marriage of males was at the age of nineteen, and three widows remarried at the age of eighteen. Of thirty-nine men marrying when they were turned eighty, only one, aged eighty-one, had never tasted the joy of matrimonial bliss previously, the rest being widowers; but out of nine women marrying beyond that age two were spinsters. The oldest man to be married was a widower of ninety-two, and the two oldest women were aged eighty-five, one a widow and one a spinster.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone, of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness."

I AM GLAD TO ENDORSE PE-RU-NA

Glad to Try Anything

"Three years ago my system was in a terribly run down condition and I was broken out all over my body. I began to be worried about my condition and I was glad to try anything which would relieve me. Peru-na was recommended to me as a fine blood remedy and tonic, and I soon found that it was worthy of praise. A few bottles changed my condition materially and in a short time I was all over my trouble. I owe my restoration to health and strength to Peru-na. I am glad to endorse it."

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

WING-SHOTS AFIELD.

Or Off-Hand Observations by a Field Agent.
(Fletcher Davis, State Department of Agriculture.)

The farmer who is looking ahead and planning his business for the future will not fail to select and save a sufficient supply of his best field seeds for the planting of his next year's crop. The man who fails to do this will not fail to pay the penalty for his failure at the next seed time—pay the penalty in high-priced seed purchased from the man who has saved it; or, what is worse, pay it in reduced yields and crops of inferior quality because of having to plant seeds of low quality or seeds unsuited to his soil and climate.

The gathering season is at hand. "The time and place to select seed corn," says C. W. Goodman in Bulletin No. 53 of the Texas State Department of Agriculture, "is in the field before the regular gathering begins. This is usually done by the farmer himself going into the field, with a sack over his shoulder or a basket under his arm, first selecting the strong, vigorous corn stalks with fairly short joints, well leafed, with ear hanging down from a reasonably short shank, the shuck being heavy and extending well over the end of the ear and tightly wrapped to prevent injury to the corn by weevils, bugs and birds. If, after being examined, the ear is found to be of the proper length and circumference, well filled tips and butts, with standard rows and deep kernels, uniformity of color and shape, it should be gathered. When a sufficient number of this type of ears have been gathered, they should be placed in a cool, well ventilated building, where they can be inspected at least twice a week. The corn should be examined from time to time to see that it is not being damaged, either from an excess of moisture or insects. In the event insect infestation appears, the ears may be placed in air-tight containers and fumigated over night with bisulphide of carbon. In selecting seed corn in the field, it is necessary to gather several times as many ears as you expect to need for seed, as it will be found, when you go over them carefully, that you have gathered many ears that do not look as well as they did in the field."

Some work this? Yes, but simple; and worth the cost! "If one expects to accomplish something," says that well known seed-breeder, A. D. Mebane, "he must pay the price." This is certainly true of successful seed selection. God Almighty has so ordained, in the economy of nature, that the man who knows how shall rule and govern and lead the man who has not taken the trouble to know and to do. Are you of that class that has the will to know and do the things that make them leaders, or are you of the class willing to be led—and pay the leader for leading you?

Not only is lots of corn ruined for seed purposes by allowing weevils to infest it, but much corn is seriously damaged for other uses every year by these ravenous insects. This waste and loss is entirely unnecessary where a good tight bin is available for storage. By placing carbon bisulphide, commonly called "high life," in shallow, open vessels, placing these vessels on top of the corn in the bin, then closing the bin as nearly air-tight as possible and keeping it closed until the carbon bisulphide has had time to evaporate, the weevils can be destroyed and this waste be eliminated. To be effective the bin must be practically air tight, about three pounds, or three pints, of the drug must be used for each thousand cubic feet of crib space, and it must be repeated about every six weeks or as often as weevils may be observed active about the corn. Carbon bisulphide volatilizes very rapidly, under proper conditions of warmth, into a deadly poisonous gas, which being heavier than air, permeates all the open spaces in the corn below and destroys the insect life; hence the warmer the temperature and the more active the insect at the time of application the more effective its use. As the gas is highly inflammable the utmost precaution must be exercised to keep fire—even from a pipe or a lantern, away from it. If an air-tight barn can not be had barrels or boxes may be used for fumigating the supply of seed corn.

Corn intended for seed should not be gathered from smut-infested field or stored in a bin with smutty corn. No satisfactory treatment for smut prevention has been discovered for seed corn, as it has been for small grain, and security against this destructive disease lies in avoiding infection in the first place.

Watch the trend of the corn market and do not be in too great a hurry to sell. With the supply of old corn all but exhausted and the crop in the cornbelt still unmade and the acreage there materially reduced there should be no occasion for any violent decline in the price, even with all the fine yield in Texas. It is the part of wisdom to calculate the cost of producing your corn. Then if the market price affords you a reasonable profit over and above that cost, and you have corn for sale, sell it. If the price falls below that figure and you have storage room, where it can be kept in a sound merchantable condition, store it. Don't dump your corn and slump the market. Remember, corn is food for both man and beast and assures both bread and meat where sufficiently abundant.

With the boll-weevil active all over the state and the fall army worm sweeping everything before it in its northward march from the southern extremities of the State, appearances now are that good sound, mature cotton seed will be at a premium for next spring's planting. If you have seed of good quality and from varieties suited to your locality and soil it will be good policy to store them where you can take good care of them and keep them for planting purposes. Don't dump such seed into the oil mill mill-hopper.

And speaking of cotton-seed, had you noticed the far-spread prevalence of cotton root-rot again this season? This destructive plant disease is assuming alarming proportions all over our heavier soils. And science has been able to offer us but little by way of relief so far. It is time farmers were trying to work out some solution of this grave problem for themselves or else abandon cotton growing on the heavier infected fields. A noticeable feature in many diseased spots, and one that may hold out at least a ray of hope that a solution of the problem may be found, is the presence of live, vigorous, growing stalks in the midst of the dead and the dying. Unfortunately, these vigorous stalks are usually conspicuous for their absence of fruit, the fruitful stalk after being devitalized by its fruit being more susceptible to the ravages of the disease, but does not their living presence suggest that nature has endowed them with resistant qualities? And is it not within the reasonable bounds of possibility that where a stalk of this kind can be found meeting all the other requirements of a normal stalk it can transmit the resistant qualities to its progeny? And may not a persistent selection of seeds from the same plants under like conditions through several generations develop a root-rot resistant variety? The success in breeding a rust-resistant variety of oats and the inestimable value such a discovery would be should lead those who can to seek this great end.

Few people realize the magnitude of Texas crop production in the aggregate. For instance, who would have thought that upwards of 1800 cars of peaches had already been shipped to market from the Texas orchards this season? Total shipments for the year will exceed 2000 cars. The Bureau of Crop Estimates places the acreage of watermelons in Texas at 24,605 with only 24 counties reporting. The indicated yield in Texas is 6642 cars. Thousands of dollars have been lost to melon growers this year on account of car shortage. It is obvious that where farmers are producing enormous quantities of such highly perishable products as melons the machinery of marketing must be well looked after in advance of the harvest season or heavy losses are inevitable.

A sweet potato crop in excess of a million and a half bushels in Texas is just now starting to market. But with all this vast quantity of potatoes there should be no over-supply or glutting of the market. There are some eighty or more sweet potato curing houses in Texas, capable of curing and storing many carloads of potatoes. Through the curing process, whereby excess moisture is removed from the potato through a system of dry, warm air treatment, the potato is not only preserved almost indefinitely, but is improved in quality by the process. The farmer who has access to such a storage house need have no fear of failing to receive remunerative prices for his crop; the man who hasn't these facilities must do as he has done in the past—take chances with market fluctuations.

Next to economical production, cheap adequate and safe storage facilities for the products after they are produced—means of preserving in a merchantable condition until demand absorbs the product at a right price—is an absolute essential if the farmer is to prosper as his importance in the affairs of the world entitle him to prosper.

COULDN'T MATCH THAT STORY

Senator Set Altogether Too Fast a Pace for Even Veteran Bore to Follow.

A senator was entertaining some friends with stories about the Arizona desert, when a bore joined the party.

This bore was the kind of a chap that always laughs in the wrong place and spoils a story by trying to guess its climax. The senator undertook to silence him.

"Poor Ferguson!" he said. "That was a close shave he had in the desert last August."

"Sunstroke, of course," said the bore.

"No, not exactly," said the senator.

"You see, Ferguson stumbled accidentally on the Cauldron—our famous spring, you know, that gushes out of the rock at freezing point and immediately begins to boil from the fierce heat of the sun."

"Of course, of course," said the bore. "And what happened to Ferguson? Did he fall in the cauldron and boil to death? Get on with your story, man."

"Ferguson fell in," said the senator. "But he managed to scramble out again. The peril, however, was not yet over for him. Our Arizona air, you see, is so dry that it absorbs moisture with astonishing rapidity. Well, the boiling water in Ferguson's clothes evaporated so fast that the poor fellow instantly froze stiff."

"I see," said the bore. "He died of cold. Well, that reminds me—"

"No, he didn't die," said the senator. "He almost died, but he had a miraculous escape. In his stiff-frozen state, you understand, he began to shiver with chill, and he shivered so hard that in a few moments he became overheated and would have succumbed to sunstroke if he hadn't providentially broken into a cold sweat."

Pure Colors Are Rare in Nature, Writer Declares

The lily family is well represented among the early flowers. A well-known member is the Clintonia, though the flower is better known than the name. The berries, writes W. L. Beecroft in Boys' Life, are remarkable for being of a pure blue color, the so-called blues usually showing some trace of purple. Pure colors are exceedingly rare in nature. It would be a harsh and glaring world indeed if red, blue and yellow, pure and unmodified, were the dominant colors. Pure yellow may be seen in the common evening primrose.

Prominent Women Gather In Michigan To Hold Grand Peace Jubilee Pageant

IN commemoration of the work accomplished in the service of their country by their many members, and those of their families, who served under their country's flag during the great war, the Woman's Benefit Association is holding a grand Peace Jubilee Pageant at their beautiful headquarters in Port Huron, Michigan, September 15 to 19. Delegates and representatives from every state in the union and all the provinces in Canada, are in attendance.

Most prominent among the special events at the Peace Jubilee is the demobilization of the Association's Service Flag, each one of the many stars on it representing the family of an Association member which gave a father, son or brother to the cause of humanity. Besides these men who did their bit in khaki, 2,700 reviews of the Woman's Benefit Association were organized as active units of the Red Cross and over 200,000 members enthusiastically gave their every effort in this work during the war.

Prominent among the speakers at the Jubilee are Governor Sleeper, of Michigan, with his staff, Mayor James Couzens of Detroit, and Major Edwin Denby, U. S. Marine Corps, of Detroit, who has the honor of giving the demobilization address.

A crowd which is taxing Port Huron's accommodations to the utmost is gathered for the Jubilee and every available inch of hotel space, both in the city and at the near-by summer resorts is engaged. In addition the S. S. Naronic, flagship of the Northern Navigation Company Fleet is being used as a hotel and is docked near the Association's headquarters.

At the same time as the Grand Peace Jubilee Pageant is being held, the Association holds its Quadrennial Supreme Review to which 110 delegates hold credentials.

This woman's society, the largest in the world, began its career very modestly 27 years ago under the guiding hand of Miss Bina M. West, a Michigan girl. She still ranks as its leader with the title of Supreme Commander. Today 212,000 women are enrolled in the Association and it ranks strongest among all the fraternal societies in America for women. Miss Frances D. Partridge, the Supreme Record Keeper is devoting her life to the work, and ranks with the leading women actuaries of the continent. In her custody repose investments of over twelve million dollars, earning interest of over half a million yearly.

One of the leading progressives of this organization and well known throughout the south in women's fraternal circles is Mrs. Laura B. Hart of San Antonio, Deputy Supreme Commander. She has Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Arizona under her management and has gained an enviable reputation for herself as a business executive. She also holds a prominent office in the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Hart was the mother of Thomas P. Hart, of Tombstone, the prominent Arizona attorney who recently lost his life, a victim of the I. W. W. Mrs. Hart is attending the Grand Peace Jubilee at Port Huron this week, accompanied by the delegates from her district.
